

Washington State SAR Planning Unit

Bob Inn has been involved with Search and Rescue since 2012. Initially, he was employed as a SAR Deputy with King County Sheriff's Office serving as Incident Commander of numerous SAR operations. Upon retiring from the sheriff's office in 2014 he continued his involvement with SAR as a volunteer with King County ESAR. Bob is currently a Team Leader with King County ESAR, and a canine handler with Chelan County Volunteer Search and Rescue where he also serves as CCVSAR's president.

Bob is part of the Washington State SAR Planning Unit Leadership Team where he serves as Outreach Director, responsible for recruiting and interaction with SAR organizations and coordinators throughout the state.
