

Washington State SAR Planning Unit

Guy Mansfield, Ph.D. has been active in Search and Rescue since 2008. In 2018 Guy received Snohomish County's highest recognition for a SAR volunteer, as well as the Snohomish County Volunteer Search and Rescue President's Award. He has also been recognized with a High Responder Award from Everett Mountain Rescue.

Guy is a director of the Washington State SAR Planning Unit and has served as Operations Section Chief and Planning Section Chief at some of the largest searches in Washington State. He received special recognition from the Snohomish County Sheriff's Office for his management of the Oso Double Homicide Search. Guy has presented on SAR process improvement and applied search theory at national and international SAR conferences.